

Living by the scripture, Ephesians 6:8 “What you help make happen for others, God will make happen for you...” Crystal L. Lowe, a native of New Jersey, has a great passion for people and building relationships. She is the Vice President of Fortress Communications, Inc., a Philadelphia-based event planning and public, community and media relations firm where she oversees projects and events in the South, and co-produces the firm’s annual International Black Film and Media Conference in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. Always seeking ways to help improve the journey of others, Crystal has recently started two organizations in addition to her Vice President duties: Crystal Clear Connections, LLC where she builds relationships between family, friends, colleagues and businesses; and, The Bari Foundation, where she assists potential patients who are considering having weight loss surgery.

The color Green was bestowed upon Crystal, of which she is most proud: “I researched it and found that it is a color that naturally fits me: growth, increase, prosperity, harmony, well-being, self-respect, and life.” Joshua 1:8 “...for thou shalt make thy way prosperous, and the thou shalt have good success.”
